The Plumbers Go Into Voluntary Idleness

TO ENFORCE THEIR NEW RULES

The Differences Existing Between Bosses and Men Set Forth-The Old and New Rules Explained.

There was no plumbing done in the yesterday. Yosterday morning journeymen plumbers did not appear at the usual hour for work as they had decided to quit until certain differences between themselves and employers could be satisfactorily settled. The trouble dates from February 24 last, when the Plumbers' union issued the following resolutions and sent a copy of them to the employing plumbers throughout the city:

GRAND RAPIDS, Feb. 24.

Dran Sins-Local union No. 70, of the city of Grand Rapids, have estab-lished the following set of rules and resolutions, of which we hereby send you a copy. We urgently request you to read them carefully and let us know your opinion at the earliest conven-

Nine Bours a Day,

Rule 1.-No member of the P. G. F. S.F. and S.F.H.organization shall work more than nine nours per day, and re-ceive for same ten hours' pay. Any member working over that time shall receive time and one-half until 12 C'elock, and double time after that.

Rule 2.—Any member working on Sunday, or on any legal holiday, must be paid at the rate of double time for

Rule 3.—That wages be paid at least once a week, and men having to go to the shop for their pay take and be allowed the necessary time to reach the

Rule 4.—All members working in the country for city bosses shall have their traveling and board bill expenses paid, and that time consumed in traveling be charged as working time. Rule 5.—No member shall work with a member not having a clear working card longer than the next meeting of the organization. Any member failing to comply with this rule shall pay a fine of $-- for every day so worked. Rule 6.—Any member working with a non-union man in violation of this rule shall pay a fine of —— for every day so worked.

Objections of Employees.

In answer to said request the employing plumbers offered no objection to the nine-hour day, the pay for overtime, the legal holiday work, the weekly payment clause or for payment of traveling expenses and the increased cost of board. They, however, object to the payment of ten hours' pay for nine hours' work, saying in connection with the same that they would treat with each man individually, as to his wages, under the new order, on the basis of his value to them. They objected to paying the men for time consumed in going for their wages. Objections of Employers. consumed in going for their wages. They also objected to the clause requir-ing the employer to employ only men nging to said union.

Rule 1.—No member of the P. G. F. S. F. and S. F. H. O. shall work more R. F. and S. F. H. O. shall work more than nine hours per day and shall receive for same ten hours' pay. Any member working over time shall receive time and one-half until 12 o'clock and double time after that.

the same.

Rule 3.—That wages be paid at least once a week, and men having to go to the shop for their pay take and be allowed the necessary time to reach the shop.
Rule 4.—All members working in the country for city bosses shall have their traveling and board bill expenses paid, and that the time consumed in traveling be charged as working time.

The same to go into effect from Monday, April 26, 1892, to May 1, 1893.

They asked that the revised list be agreed to by their employers. Here the matter now stands, with little probability that they will be concurred in as presented. There are about one hundred plumbers now idle.

HUBBARD AGAINST LONG. The Celebrated Parlor Furniture Case Court Again.

The case of Harry Hubbard sgainst Harry Long, principal stockholder in the defunct Parlor Furniture company, was on trial in the circuit court yester-day before Judge Adait. The plaintiff in the case sets forth that he was a musician of fair skill and earned by playing $20 per week. The defendant, it is alleged, represented that the Parit is alleged, represented that the Parlor Furniture company was doing a large business and was on a paying basis. That a dividend of 22 per cent, had been paid and that the probabilities were that the per cent would be increased. That all of the stock, with the exception of the small amounts held by employes, was held by the Long family, where it was intended it should remain. That the defendant thought the plaintiff would make a good salesman and would, as a special favor, sell him twenty shares of stock thought the plaintiff would make a good salesman and would, as a special favor, sell him twenty shares of stock and give him a miary of $25 per week and give him a miary of $25 per week and expenses. First, however, it would be necessary for him to learn the business. With that end in view he would give him a position as shipping cierk at a miary of $8 per week until he became posted, which would take about two weeks. The $500 would also be drawing 22 per cent which would make a good thing. The plaintiff eavy he had no knowledge of business and, relying upon the statements made by the plaintiff, paid in $500 and went to work. He was not given a job on the read as promised, but was told his envices were not needed after working several months. On the advice of he attorney he refused to give up his job and stayed until the company busted. Because of misrepresentations made and the form is business as a musician, the 'is for $5000 damages. The concluded today.

GOES TO SARANAC

ing arm in arm with each other toward their home on Wealthy avenue, Mrs. Tyson leading their pretty little daugh-ter, Lucille, by the hand. Dr. Pressy. ter, Lucille, by the hand. Dr. Pressy, at whose house Mrs. Tyson has been staying since being released from juil, was called up by telephone, but his knowledge on the subject was limited to the statement that Mrs. Tyson was not at his house, having left in the morning. To all other questions he replied, "I don't know," or "not to my knowledge." Mr. Tyson's attorney demed the truth of the rumor and said that Tyson had called on his wife, on that Tyson had called on his wife, on his advice, for the purpose of dividing their property which consisted of household goods. Mr. Tyson was told, in regard to the girl, to allow the wife to take the child to Saranac with her and iff in the future she exhibited a disposition to mend her aways, to allow her to stay there until the courts settle the question as to who is entitled to the custody of her. Yesterday afternoon Mr. Tyeon accompanied his wife to the depot and she took the train for Saanac. The child accompanied her.

FOUND IN A PRIVY VAULT. The Dead Body of a Baby Taken From

Its Filthy Tomb. One day last week the dead body of a newly born infant was discovered in a privy vault. The body was removed and taken to an undertaking establishment, where an examination was made to determine the cause of death. Upon the examination it was proved beyond doubt that the baby was born alive. This proof was so unmastakable that it was concluded that the child was the product of illicit love, or something worse, and that it had been murdered and thrown into the vault to save its mother from disgrace. Acting upon this theory, detectives were engaged to ferret out the truth and to the end that justice may not be subverted, the names of persons and localities are withheld until the detectives are prepared to report. All persons might have been cognizant to the facts are under surveillance, and it is prob-able that arrests will be made either today or tomorrow.

Hearing an Injunction.

Circuit Court Commissioner Hughes took testimony yesterday in the case of Milton M. Morse and George M. Morse against Frederick Inman. The suilt was filed March 11, 1891. The com-plainants asked and were granted a temporary injunction restraining the defendant from making repairs to the front of his store, the second door west from Ottawa on Monroe street, claiming that the falling plaster, etc., was a detriment to their business. The defendant went on with his repairs regardless of the injunction.

Notes From the Courts.

Patrick Scanlan and John Powers were arraigned in police court yesterday for disturbing a religious meeting at the South Division Street Episcopal church. They waived the reading of the complaint and pleaded not guilty. They will have a hearing April 29.

Truth is stranger than fiction, so runs the cid saying, and no more appropriate iffinistration of these words could be asked than the facts given in the following sketch of a personal experience related to the writer by Mr. Thomas who said: Afte has been quite an experience. For the past ten years my life has been one of constant suffering. This may seem strange, but it is a fact revertheless. What caused my trouble? Well I can scarcely tell. It began so gradually said continued to grow, despite all chorts to check it, until it became of a chronic nature. My head a dross were constantly support up, I had traging and burning noises in my cars and my sense of teste and smell became very much impaired. My eyes were wook and watery and objects would him before them: my head ached constantly. There was a constant dropping of mucous late my throat which kept me marking and raising a great deal of thick tenacious white matter.

My throat became dry, inflamed and sore. I had sharp paids under my shoulder blades, in fact all through my body. I seemed to take told on the slightest exposure or change of weather. My appetite was variable, and what little I could eat would lie beavy on my stom uch, and be followed by a semation of dat essame nauses. I stept sound but would arise feeling more tired than when I was in a truly miserable condition when I had my dispressively a symptoms gradually dispressively form what I was when I began this treatment. I swe my recovery to the Montague treatment and am glad to be able to make this statement.
